RE: Changes to uniform

Dear Parent/carers,

The governors have discussed the desire to support parents through this inflationary period, in particular regarding money spent on uniform whilst also trying to keep certain standards.

It is school policy that all children wear school uniform which can be purchased online <https://www.myclothing.com> or Ian Howard School Outfitters, East Ham or any supermarket that provides school uniform clothing. Your child should wear navy blue skirt/trousers, plain white top, navy blue sweatshirt, jumper or cardigan and plain black shoes. For P.E - plain navy blue jogging bottoms or shorts and a logo T-shirt or plain white T-shirt with black plimsolls.

It has been further decided that children can wear the existing uniform or they could substitute the trousers for non-branded dark blue or black tracksuit bottoms, plain black trainers (unbranded) instead of shoes and plain white polo shirts (unbranded) in place of ones with the badge on if they were struggling to afford those items on the original list. I would also direct them to a future aim of the Gov's to open a half-termly clothing exchange for parents to help ease the burden.

Yours Sincerely

Matt Hipperson HT
